

A PRAYER FOR THE WEAK

My Lord, O be merciful to these weak
Week, wretched since though I be,
My trembling soul would fain be Thine,
My feeble faith would cling to Thee.

Not only for the past I grieve,
The future fills me with dismay;
Unless Thou hasten to relieve,
I know my heart will fall away.
I cannot say my faith is strong,
I have no hope my love is great;
But strength and love to Thee belong:
Oh, do not leave me desolate.

I know I owe my all to Thee;
Oh, take the heart I cannot give;
Do Thou my strength, my Saviour be,
And make me to Thy glory live.
—Emily Brontë.

HOW TO BE SAVED

Repent and forsake sin.
Firmly face the fact of your sin,
It gets worse, and unless something happens to stop it, your soul will stand before your Maker at last with only foul horrors as its record.
Cast yourself upon God's mercy;
confess your wrongs against His laws; plead for pardon in the name of Jesus, who has said you shall atone
what you will and it shall be given you.

THE SEARCHLIGHT

O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon His name;
make known His deeds
among the people.
Sing unto Him, sing psalms unto Him; talk ye of all His wondrous works.
Glory ye in His holy name;
let the hearts of them rejoice that seek the Lord.
Seek the Lord and His strength; seek His face evermore.

NOTHING characterized the life and work of the leaders of the early Christian Church, after their love for the actual Salvation of sinners, so much as their constant and unflinching care for the welfare and usefulness of their converts. Judging by the Epistles of the New Testament, written as they were by different men, one would almost conclude that, without fail, this was the supreme thought itself. In fact, it was this that prompted the writing of these letters. And so Peter, James, Jude, and Paul alike manifested this spirit. Nor were Moses, Samuel, Isaiah, Jeremiah, or Elisha, or any other of the Old Testament worthies lacking in this regard.

Call to Awake

Ezekiel's warning to the idle shepherds, and Isaiah's call to the Church of his day, to awake could very properly be regarded as keynotes of the work of all, and an index of their spirit. By the way, how plainly this reminds us of the danger and possibility of the convert becoming weary and burning out, and the Army of the Lord losing its strength and usefulness.
Now these and other thoughts were brought to my mind by picking in the "Soldier's Guide" one day, the last verse of which I have given above.

The Apostle was urging these converts to live as sinners and usefulness, and bidding them lay aside malice, guile, hypocrites, and all evil speakings.

SPIRITUAL SHRAPNEL

By COMMANDER EVA BOOTH

SOME people think that what they learn in the schools will bring them to God; others,
what they learn in the Church; but light comes to us only at the foot of the Cross.

It is our darling sins that work our doom. Christ died to save us from them.

Through the Blood

Through the all-redeeming Blood of Jesus Christ those who are lowest down can be lifted highest up. There is no limit to His redemption!

It is no use looking for Jesus with the head alone; you must look with the heart.

How wide is the circle of your troubles and sorrows? Christ's saving grace is wider.

Jesus Christ died to destroy in your heart the works of the devil
—they must be destroyed, or He will destroy you.

The Cross of Christ provides grace, not only to hold us back from the wrong, but to hold us up to the right.

It does not matter who you are,
how you are, or where you are;
when you seek Jesus Christ with the whole heart, He will be found of you.

Procrastination is the sin of the day. Men put off getting right with God, put off forgiving their enemies, put off confessing their sins. If we don't attend to these things now we may never attend to them at all.

In your heart, in your life, in your joys, and in your sorrows put God first, and no matter how adverse your circumstances, He will not fail to see you through.

We often ask God to rectify in our circumstances that which alone beareth in our hearts.

No power on earth or in Heaven can save off the injury a man does himself while he nurses a grudge.

Sacrifice is the greatest proof a man can offer a suffering world of the sincerity of his religion.

Finally, be kind, secondly, be kind, lastly, be kind. No man, woman, or child can resist it.

Do not set harshly towards others because you have been treated harshly.

It is too often our way to stand only for the strong; it is ever Christ's way to lift up the weak.

The greatest sorrows are reduced by half when they are shared.

Effect of Selfishness

Selfishness palsies the hand so that it cannot stretch out for the help of others.

All the sins that have ever befallen cannot wash away the stain of sin. All the gold banks have ever hoarded cannot pay its debt.

All the affliction man has ever suffered cannot merit his penalty.
"Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world."

Don't give up, don't turn back, don't let your divine hope go be-

CAUSE you cannot understand the mystery of God's love,
where there is no end.

Let us not try to attain no knowledge,
too high for us to reach.

A true knowledge of God's love is a great blessing.

There is no end to God's love, and no end to His mercy.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

God is a Father, and
He will be kind to
the fatherless.

The Winnipeg Rest Room and Hostel

OPENED BY BRIGADIER-GENERAL KETCHEN—AN EVENT OF A MOST NOTEWORTHY CHARACTER—MUCH PUBLIC INTEREST AROUSED—SPLENDID TRIBUTES TO THE SALVATION ARMY WAR WORK PAID BY PROMINENT SPEAKERS—COMMISSIONER SOWTON GIVES AN ADDRESS

The opening of The Salvation Army Rest Room and Hostel at Winnipeg on Friday, Aug. 30th, was an event of a most noteworthy character, and one which stirred considerable public interest in The Salvation Army's War Work.

The institution is situated on Logan Avenue, East, near Main Street, and was formerly part of the St. James Hotel recently acquired.
The well-appointed auditorium of the one-time Men's Own Mission has been converted into a Rest Room which is most inviting and homelike. Here the soldier boys will be able to rest or find a means of recreation amid congenial surroundings.

Dormitory and single-room sleeping accommodations have been provided. Also shower baths, in fact, every effort has been put forth to make the building all that its name implies, and judging from the many praiseworthy comments which were given expression to by those who visited the Hostel, the results achieved in this respect have been most successful.

Brigadier-General Ketchen Opens the Hostel

On arrival in Winnipeg, he had been struck by the absence of any such comfort rooms as were so evident in England. He was, however,
able to state that further buildings
of a similar nature would be opened by similar organizations who would work in co-operation with The Salvation Army.

Mr. T. W. Law, of the Great War
Veterans' Association, stated that it was a great pleasure for him to wish The Salvation Army hearty greetings on behalf of the association he represented. "I can say that what Commissioner Sowton has said about the work of The Salvation Army in France is absolutely correct. I have not heard one member of the G.W.V.A., which is now 5,400 strong, say one word against or in opposition to the organization."

"We are here," said Major Graham (the Chaplain of District No.
10), "to carry on a work similar to your own, except that we have no Hostel like this. I wish we had. I bring to-day greetings to The Salvation Army because of what they have done for our men in the past, because of what they still do for them."

In closing Major Graham stated that he trusted this life Hostel will indeed be a home away from home, and assured the Commissioner that it was a pleasure if there was anything he could do for Adjutant Hastick, the Officer in charge.

Returned Soldier's Appreciation

In the absence of ex-Mayor Waugh, Mr. T. Hooper spoke of the Returned Soldiers' Association's appreciation of what The Salvation Army had done, and were doing, for the "returned boys." This Hostel is another evidence of their interest in their welfare. Dr. Flanders (Broadway Methodist Church) also spoke.

By special request Captain S. Cox sang a solo entitled, "Over There where the Camp Fires are Burning."

"I wish to pay tribute," said Major Pitt, in the course of an eloquent address dealing with the needs of the convalescent men, "to the work of The Salvation Army in England and France, for I have seen it in operation there; I have ridden in its ambulances, I have attended The Army's meetings, and what Commissioner Sowton has told you this afternoon is correct. When I first saw The Army's Founder, General William Booth, I was struck with the remarkable twinkle in his eye. I am sure if he could see what the Organization is doing for the boys
'over there' it would literally sparkle."

Needs of Convalescent

Major Pitt manifested by his address that he had a most intelligent and comprehensive grasp of the need of the convalescent soldiers.
"Discipline can train men to be soldiers, to fight, to kill, but it takes patience and kindness to bring them back to the productive world. At Hostels such as those The Salvation Army will be able to exert such an influence which will be of untold help and blessing to the men during the convalescent stage."

Brigadier-General Ketchen, in true soldier style, delivered himself of his thoughts without any hesitation. Himself being a returned soldier, he was of the opinion that all the boys would appreciate the Hostel in a similar manner to himself.

On arriving in Winnipeg, he had been struck by the absence of any such comfort rooms as were so evident in England. He was, however,
able to state that further buildings
of a similar nature would be opened
by similar organizations who would
work in co-operation with The Salvation Army.

Solving a Problem

To his mind the returned soldier problem was of great importance.
The matter had to be looked at with broad-mindedness and with consideration to the men's past hardships.

The only thing that the boys desired was that they be allowed to settle down once more to earning their livelihood, and it was up to all to aid them. In regard to the opening of the Hostel, the General corroborated

the statement by Commissioner Sowton, to the effect that the seats in the streets might be all right for summer, but they were valueless in winter, and that the Hostel fulfilled a great want.

Thanks The Army

"In conclusion I would like to thank The Army again for the very kind thought you have given to the returned soldiers in supplying this magnificent building for this use and I feel honoured in declaring this building opened for the returned soldiers and those who are passing through the city from time to time."

After the close of the ceremony, tea and refreshments were served to every one who desired to partake of them while an inspection of the Hostel was in progress.

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

Brigadier-General Ketchen

The Rest Room at the Hostel

WITH OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS IN CAMP AND AT THE FRONT.

DOING GOOD WORK

A Soldier from Western Canada Records His Impressions of the Salvation Army in France

A farmer who lives near Dauphin has received letters from his son in France in which the work of the Salvation Army is highly spoken of. Captain Kisson forwards us the following extracts. Writing from No. 2 General Hospital, France, Private Ernest Church says:—

"I go to the Salvation Army here now, or they have some excellent meetings, and are doing a wonderfully good work in France. There were two converts last night. There were testimonies from the British Isles, Canada, America, and Australia. A Belgian also gave his testimony in French, which was interpreted by one of the woman Officers of the Salvation Army."

"As I listened to all these testimonies to the love and power of Jesus Christ, I thought what a marvellous proof of His love and care, that here in one small building in France there was assembled representatives from all parts of the world, to tell the old story of Jesus and His love."

"At a later date he writes: 'We are having excellent times here in the Salvation Army. The Officers are excellent, Christian people, and are very zealous for the work of the Master, and, thank God, their efforts do not go fruitless, but every meeting they hold is blessed with souls for our Saviour.'"

"I have seen as many as ten come out in a single meeting, and I am happy to relate that I was instrumental in bringing one to Him. The lad told me about it the next night, and although he was once a bad case, he is now a great worker for his Master. I pray God that He may see him safe in the love of Christ."

"On Tuesday and Thursday we have a Bible Study Class, followed by a prayer meeting, as the case of each at the Salvation Army. I might say we have been richly blessed through them, and personally I have had many knotty problems cleared out at them, and many others are the same way. We are now studying St. John's Gospel, and find it beautiful."

RETURNED SOLDIER

Related the Opinion of MacLeod
Citizen Regarding the Army

When Commissioner Spawton visited MacLeod, Alta., recently the chairman at the meeting was Mr. A. D. Ferguson, who stated that his opinion of the Salvation Army had been greatly enhanced since having an interview with a returned soldier, who informed him of the great help and blessing the Salvation Army has been not only to himself, but to thousands of other men "over there," who greatly appreciated their acts of cheer and comfort.

NOTICE TO READERS

The Editor will be glad to receive letters or extracts from letters from British overseas, containing references to Salvation Army work, clubs, or hospitals, pointing incidents of Salvation Army or giving personal testimony. Address: The Editor, "War Cry," Albert Street, Toronto.

SOME TALES OF A HUT

Lecturing for a Library—Good Care for Gamblers—A Scotch Soldier's Sacrifice to Aid Sick Comrade

A SALVATIONIST veteran who will celebrate his thirty-sixth anniversary as an Army Soldier on October 15th next, recently called in at Headquarters. Envoy Richard Osborne is his name and he is just arrived from England, where he has been in charge of an Army Hut since the outbreak of war. Failing health compelled him to give up this arduous task, and he has come to his chums and thanked God for saving him.

A report of this was sent to the British "War Cry," and, by a strange coincidence, it arrived almost at the same time as a letter from the father of the young man in question. The letter read as follows:—

"You don't know how grateful I am to the Army; my boy who is in camp at Ripon has written to say that he has been to the Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

that he has been to the Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

Army Hut at Ripon and has been to the

SALVATIONISTS BOWED

French, Italian, British, and Medals Won by Comrades
for Brave Deeds

League W. J. Waller, a Canadian Salvationist of the Highgate (England) has been awarded the "Medaille Militaire" by the President of the French Republic for services rendered at sea. It is said that the Italian French Medal by the King of Italy for saving lives from attack by submarines.

Sergeant George Tomlinson, Canadian Salvationist of the Highgate, was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal by the King of Italy for saving lives from attack by submarines.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Yet a fourth honor has been awarded to Redmond Gordon Swain, of Middleburgh, N.Y., in that he has won the D.M. for a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

Our comrade, in his capacity as dressing station sergeant in connection with his battalion, has proved a valuable man and has been awarded a great deal of work usually done only by doctors, and recently by military authorities. He is now in England from France for a course of surgery, with the evident intention of further usefulness and a commission.

ALL UNDER THE BLOOD & FIRE FLAG

KOREA

OPENING OF A NEW HALL
AT CHUN JU

A Very Conservative City—Great Interest—Thrifty Seekers for First Week-end

"It is ever so humble, there's no place like home" is a true, no matter what circumstances it may be applied; and its application was doubly true in the case of the new building of the Chun Ju Corps (called Ensign Lord). The Corps has been housed in a rented building ever since its birth, and although the building had been desirable to more than one weary soul that had been wandering out on the highways of sin or on the dark roads of heathen ignorance, it was after all only lodgings, so that when through the generosity of our General and the thoughtfulness of the Territorial Council, it was made possible to have a real Salvation Army building, there was much rejoicing.

An Important City
Chun Ju is the seat of the Provincial Government for the Province of North Chulla, one of the two western provinces known as the "Granary of Korea." The Province has a population of about one and a half million people of whom only about 5000 have professed Christianity. Hence the opportunity in a city of this nature cannot be over-estimated.

The city itself is very conservative. "What was, is and ever shall be" seems to be the accepted principle of its people, in spite of the fact that their adherence to this foolish but widespread obstinacy has resulted in their being gradually pressed outside the city wall into the surrounding country by their more aggressive neighbours on the east.

The new Salvation Army building has been built on a prominent site just outside the city wall by the side of the old East Gate, but right among the Korean houses.

Great interest had been created as piece by piece the Hall was erected, always the advisers and instructors outnumbering the actual builders, because there is one thing the Koreans can do well and that is, tell the other man "how it is done." In spite of the multitude of counselors a very neat and pleasing Hall was completed to the satisfaction of those who were responsible for its erection, and the date of the official opening and dedication, to God for us as a Salvation Army Hall was fixed.

The Territorial Commanders, Colonel French, who conducted these services, was accompanied by the new Chief Secretary for Korea, Mr. J. R. Richards.

Official Congratulations
The Governor of the Province, the Chief of the Provincial Police, and the local police had all sent their representatives to offer congratulations on the occasion. Likewise the Korean pastor of the Presbyterian Church was present and spoke.

God set His seal upon the dedication of that building in the salvation of thirty souls during the opening week-end.

SOUTH AFRICAN OUTRIDERS

A Description of Their Trials and Triumphs—Difficulties of Travel—Rendering Service to the People

"No journeyings off" can be applied to no Officers more than to our Outriders. Troubles from travel can hardly be avoided, as they are incessantly on the road, and have to cover immense distances.

Outriders have not only to contend with the various climates, and conditions as to roads or no roads; but as South Africa is a land of extremes and happenings extraordinary in nature, in trades and industries and otherwise, difficulties and emergencies are of common occurrence.

Sometimes gold and other mines close down, or there is a failure in the push-bicycle industry, or the weather and such like. Sometimes, again, there are droughts, and friends who would gladly aid our work are unable to do so owing to the failure of crops, want of pasture for cattle and sheep, which often have to be slaughtered in large numbers for scarcity of fodder, whatever loss it may entail.

Disturbance Floods
Again, there are floods, destroying all manner of earth's products, as well as properties, carrying away bridges, making roads impassable, and even leading to loss of stock and, worse still, of human beings.

It is only a month or two ago that large parts of Natal were like inland lakes or seas. That province had a double deluge. After the first floods were subsiding, when the inhabitants thought they had more than enough, the terrible rains began again.

Traveling by train is not the common means by which our Outriders cover the country. Indeed, they are continually making calls far from railways, where dwellings are few and far between, sometimes so solitary that the visit of our Officer is a rare event.

Motor cycles are generally used where there are roads at all fit for their use; but the push-bicycle is often brought into requisition, and more still the saddle or horse and cart.

Recently Adjutant Sticks had a somewhat extraordinary experience. In endeavouring to reach a certain place he had to cross a river, which he managed to do by wading through, carrying his clothes on his head. Further on he had again to cross a river, but had the misfortune to slip on a stone, and his boots and socks went gaily down the stream, never to be seen again; he then had to walk another five miles barefooted, and had again to cross a river twice, having a second cold bath in the process, and in that condition arrived at a friend's house.

Many and varied have been his experiences. Naturally, the uniform was a great attraction, the Ensign being mistaken for an aviation ship's officer, and was even taken to the calaboss in one town to prove his identity and nationality.

In order to get about from place to place it has been necessary to travel by various modes of conveyance, and can trucks and even lime trucks have been negotiated for this purpose. The Ensign had a great advantage for our comrades, who, notwithstanding loneliness and temptations on every hand, have kept true to their colours, and brought glory to the cross.

The first Corps will be opened in Santiago de Cuba, and it is expected that within a short time, further extensions will be made.

Finland
Caring for the Children—Work among the Prisoners
Happily, in spite of the disturbed condition of the country, it has been possible for us to get the necessities of life for all the children in the three Colonies which the Salvation Army has established, and for one hundred children in the Children's Crib. Besides these institutions, our comrades have opened two Children's Cribes and one Children's Home in Helsinki suburbs. Precisely this same work of helping the needy in the capital has also been done in the country.

Another work, which gives great promise of blessing to many, was set in operation immediately after the White Guards' victory. A score of Salvation Army Officers were set apart for service among the prisoners in the camp. These Officers have helped the families of the prisoners, rendering financial assistance where necessary, and seeking to be a blessing in every way possible. Where possible they obtained proof of absolute or relative innocence on behalf of prisoners, and helped to care for the delinquent. Altogether it may be said that the Salvation Army has great possibilities of doing good and being of much use.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

WEST INDIES

PIONEER OFFICERS REPORT
ON CUBA—SALVATIONISTS ARE STANDING TRUE

"A Land of Opportunity." Such are the impressions of Ensign Tinner after travelling through Cuba. For the past eight weeks he has been travelling from town to town, localizing Salvationists who have emigrated from Jamaica and Panama, and are working on the various estates. His report to the Territorial Commander is very interesting.

Many and varied have been his experiences. Naturally, the uniform was a great attraction, the Ensign being mistaken for an aviation ship's officer, and was even taken to the calaboss in one town to prove his identity and nationality.

In order to get about from place to place it has been necessary to travel by various modes of conveyance, and can trucks and even lime trucks have been negotiated for this purpose. The Ensign had a great advantage for our comrades, who, notwithstanding loneliness and temptations on every hand, have kept true to their colours, and brought glory to the cross.

The first Corps will be opened in Santiago de Cuba, and it is expected that within a short time, further extensions will be made.

Finland
Caring for the Children—Work among the Prisoners
Happily, in spite of the disturbed condition of the country, it has been possible for us to get the necessities of life for all the children in the three Colonies which the Salvation Army has established, and for one hundred children in the Children's Crib. Besides these institutions, our comrades have opened two Children's Cribes and one Children's Home in Helsinki suburbs. Precisely this same work of helping the needy in the capital has also been done in the country.

Another work, which gives great promise of blessing to many, was set in operation immediately after the White Guards' victory. A score of Salvation Army Officers were set apart for service among the prisoners in the camp. These Officers have helped the families of the prisoners, rendering financial assistance where necessary, and seeking to be a blessing in every way possible. Where possible they obtained proof of absolute or relative innocence on behalf of prisoners, and helped to care for the delinquent. Altogether it may be said that the Salvation Army has great possibilities of doing good and being of much use.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Indian Progress
A visiting scheme, which has been inaugurated in Bombay, has already resulted in the making of over thirty Salvationists from the Bombay City, with a view to their going to India to help the South Indian people. One of the first officers to the Field. One soul sought God in the open-air ring just outside the Nagore Post Office.

Latest Despatches From The Firing Line

STIRRING MEETINGS

Led by Staff-Captain Smith at Edmonton III, Corps—Three Candidates Farewell

The meetings at Edmonton III, on Sunday, Aug. 25th, were conducted by our new Chancellor, Staff-Captain Smith. From the very commencement of the day, open-air and inside, God's presence was indeed much in evidence. The Holiness meeting brought us face to face with the deep things of the Divine life. In the afternoon the Staff-Captain visited the Juniors. A splendid gathering greeted him, and made the new Young People's Secretary feel right at home.

At the night meeting Brigadier Hay paid a surprise visit to the Corps, and led a splendid testimony meeting, after which the Staff-Captain gave an inspiring address. When the invitation was given, two men walked out, and after a good, old-fashioned prayer meeting, when the Holy Ghost came very near, they found Salvation both testifying to that fact.

On Friday, Aug. 30th, a special farewell meeting was arranged for the three Candidates who were leaving for the Training College. In the afternoon a good crowd gathered to give our sister-comrades Morrison, Clark and Jackson a good send-off. Staff-Captain Smith presided. A good programme had been prepared, which was indeed appreciated.

On Sunday, Sept. 1st, the final farewell meeting of the Candidates was held. Our comrades conducted the Holiness meeting, which was a time of rich blessing. Candidate Clark took the lesson.

At the night meeting the expressions of affection from the Senior and Junior Leagues commending the Young People upon the step they were taking and the loss the Corps Training College under the leadership of the Senior and Junior Leagues were forgotten. At the close of the meeting six precious souls came out for Salvation and Holiness, Captain and Mrs. Jones are leading us on to victory.

TWO CANDIDATES

Farewell from Lethbridge for the Winnipeg Training Garrison

On Sunday, Sept. 1st, two young comrades farewelled from Lethbridge for the Winnipeg Training Garrison—Candidates Lucy Hardy and Willie Research. They have been faithful members of the Corps and Band.

In the Holiness meeting Adjutant Bettridge gave good, timely advice from the Bible lesson to all comrades present, and especially the two Candidates. In the afternoon's meeting our two departing comrades led on while the Adjutant and Envoys Rockin conducted the jail meeting.

At night a large crowd attended, the Bishop and Senior Leader Bro. Hamilton gave one of the best spiritual messages to our young comrades, and the people were indeed blessed.

A Harvest Home Festival was held at Hamilton I, on Aug. 29th. The Ibbotson family took a prominent part in the programme, with their musical instruments and their singing.

THIRD ANNUAL CONGRESS

Conducted at Fort Edmonton by Brigadier McLean—Thirteen Seekers in Final Meeting

The third Annual Congress held at Fort Edmonton is over, but will not soon be forgotten. It was the best we have had yet. Brigadier McLean, who had charge of the Congress, was at his best, and poured out some good, red-hot salvation messages in the people. Great numbers of all nationalities stood round the open-air and took in the message, and followed us to the Hall—packing it to the door.

Sunday was a great day. The power of God was felt in all meetings. In the afternoon the Local Officers of the different Corps were sworn in. At the night meeting God spoke peace to thirteen souls. Oh, what a wind-up! These Congress meetings are a great help to the people, when hundreds of them are gathered to get help.

We left on Monday morning for the town of—Mankinsville, where Envoys and Mrs. Tomlinson are in charge of the work. Here we conducted two meetings, and were blessed to see the victory. God is blessing His work on the Upper Skeena. Pray for us, that God will help us to lead many souls out of darkness into light—Hugh Jackson, Adjutant.

MARCHING ALOUD

Major and Mrs. Coombs Lead a Week-end's Meetings at Merville

The Salvation Army is marching along at Merville, under the leadership of Captain and Mrs. Turner. Major and Mrs. Coombs recently visited us, and the meetings were a source of great blessing to all. Mrs. Coombs gave a most stirring spiritual talk on Saturday night. On Sunday night we were all greatly blessed, and the Major's music was best of all, and in the open-air, and accepted Jesus as her Saviour.

ST. JOHN IV.

We are having good times in our meetings at St. John IV, under the leadership of Captain McFadden. On Friday, Aug. 23rd, the members of the Home League spent a very pleasant evening.

TORONTO I.

We had a blessed time on Sunday, Sept. 15th, at Toronto I. Brigadier Knigge was with us. The Juniors enjoyed the Brigadier's talks. At night six souls knelt at the Pentent Form, four of whom were Juniors.

WORKMATES' INFLUENCE

Helped Brantford Men to Get Right With God at the Pentent Form

Lieut. Colonel Mrs. Bell's visit to Brantford might be summarized in the words: great crowds, great blessing, great success. The comrades turned out in great numbers, both to the open-air and inside meetings, and their faces bore evidence of the blessing received, as they listened to the Corps' forceful and spiritual addresses.

We finished with two souls at the money that his workmate, who was one of our Bandmen, and sat by his side in the window, had at the night meeting. Oh, what a wind-up! These Congress meetings are a great help to the people, when hundreds of them are gathered to get help.

We left on Monday morning for the town of—Mankinsville, where Envoys and Mrs. Tomlinson are in charge of the work. Here we conducted two meetings, and were blessed to see the victory. God is blessing His work on the Upper Skeena. Pray for us, that God will help us to lead many souls out of darkness into light—Hugh Jackson, Adjutant.

CANDIDATE FROM MOOSE JAW

Is Given a Good Send-Off by Comrades of the Corps

On Sunday, Sept. 1st, the Young People's Secretary, Staff-Captain Smith, farewelled from Moose Jaw for the Training Garrison. On Tuesday night a large crowd of comrades and friends gathered to say goodbye to our dear comrade. We had a short meeting led by Adjutant Beattie (our new Corps Officer). At 8:40 we all formed up, headed by the Band, and marched to the station, where our comrade took the train for Winnipeg.

Nearly eighty people were on the march, which goes to show the love and esteem in which our comrade was held by the Corps and town. As the train pulled out the Band played "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again." We must make mention of the great sacrifice the Candidate's parents are making in giving their daughter, the last child at home, for the noble life which she believes God has called her to—E. Stoffer.

DRUMHELLER OPENED

On Thursday, Aug. 18th, Brigadier Hay, assisted by Captains Day and Sampson, opened the Work in the town of Drumheller, Alberta. A night's good crowd gathered to hear the Brigadier, whose words proved to be a great blessing. We are believing for a good time here this winter, and are praying that many souls will be won for the Master.

A COMFORT SHOW

Results in the Showing in of 200 Articles at the Home League of the Boys

The much looked-for "Comfort Show" was held at the Home League of the Boys on Sunday, Aug. 25th. The show was a great success, and was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success.

The Home League of the Boys was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success.

The Home League of the Boys was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success. The Home League of the Boys was a great success.

OPEN-AIR MEETING

Conducted by Salvation Army in Hotel at Weyburn

At Weyburn on Aug. 30th, 31st, and Sept. 1st we had a splendid time. On Aug. 30th Commandant Larson led the meeting.

On Saturday, Aug. 31st, we had on the day. It was very encouraging to see how willingly the people responded. We raised $250 for the War Work of The Salvation Army.

On Sunday we had a very good day. In the evening service one sister came to the Mercy Seat. She shared with us in her testimony that she was in one of the hotels while the open-air meeting was going on outside, and she heard something that made her think of her childhood and had watched with great pleasure her growth into a woman warrior for God and The Army. In this step she was taking she was a very happy young people's biggest happiness. "I believe they will take the highway of service and devotion under The Army Flag," he concluded, "and thus bring endless blessing to all the lives they touch."

Adjutant Tyndall, representing the Finance Department, referred to his pleasant associations with Captain Laurie in the office, and with Mrs. Laurie in the home. He spoke in the highest terms of the good home influences that had surrounded him, and concluded by saying: "I have had before me in the lives of my parents a constant object lesson of how happy a Salvation Army Officer's home can be if God is put first."

Mrs. Captain Laurie also spoke of the good example of Officership that had been set by her father and

DEDICATED CHILDREN

At the Home of a Lady in Arden, B.C.

Brigadier McLean recently visited Arden, B.C. We took advantage of the fine weather, and held several meetings. The attendance was quite large at the various meetings.

After we had concluded one of our meetings in a school hall, a lady remarked to the Home League of the Boys, "I have had before me in the lives of my parents a constant object lesson of how happy a Salvation Army Officer's home can be if God is put first."

Mrs. Captain Laurie also spoke of the good example of Officership that had been set by her father and

WEDDED FOR SERVICE

Ensign Satya Mapp and Captain Tom Laurie Are United in Marriage at the Toronto Temple

COMMISSIONER RICHARDS PRESIDES OVER MEETING

AND COMMISSIONER MAPP PERFORMS CEREMONY

THE wedding of Ensign Satya Mapp and Captain Tom Laurie took place in the Toronto Temple on Monday, Sept. 16th, and the event attracted a crowd which filled the building to capacity. Commissioner was hoping to conduct the Sunday's meeting.

The Holiness meeting which was held in the Baptist Church, will long be in the minds of the people. The Commissioner's burning words in his holy living certainly stirred the congregation.

In the afternoon the Commissioner lectured on Russia. Our Hall was filled with a representative congregation, many of the leading citizens being present. His Worship Mayor Kelly presided. At the close of the Commissioner's talk the Hon. G. H. Howard, Premier of Nova Scotia, as old and tried friend of The Salvation Army, moved a vote of thanks, speaking very forcibly of the work of the Army. This was seconded by Dr. McLean.

At night the Hall was crowded, and we had a very interesting and helpful address. Among those who attended the meeting were a number of American theologians—A. Cummings, Captain.

Following the opening song and prayer by Mrs. Colonel Hoe, the Chief Secretary read a number of messages which had been received. Several speakers were then called on by Commissioner Richards to express their good wishes for the bride couple.

Brigadier Bettridge (the Young People's Secretary), under whom Ensign Mapp has worked for the past three years, paid a high tribute to her great devotion in looking after the interests of the Life-Saving Guards. Staff-Captain Mapp, the bridegroom, spoke after the happy associations with the bride and her parents, and said that the Ensign had deeply impressed her by her kindness and her devotion to Salvation Army principles.

Colonel Hoe said that he had known the Ensign from her earliest childhood and had watched with great pleasure her growth into a woman warrior for God and The Army. In this step she was taking she was a very happy young people's biggest happiness. "I believe they will take the highway of service and devotion under The Army Flag," he concluded, "and thus bring endless blessing to all the lives they touch."

Adjutant Tyndall, representing the Finance Department, referred to his pleasant associations with Captain Laurie in the office, and with Mrs. Laurie in the home. He spoke in the highest terms of the good home influences that had surrounded him, and concluded by saying: "I have had before me in the lives of my parents a constant object lesson of how happy a Salvation Army Officer's home can be if God is put first."

Mrs. Captain Laurie also spoke of the good example of Officership that had been set by her father and mother. At the outset of her own career as an Officer, she said, she had taken as her motto, "If I do my best, Jesus will be satisfied." During the eight years since she had been tried to live up to that motto. It had been a pleasure to work in the Young People's Department and with the Life-Saving Guards, and she cherished many pleasant memories. In the future she would still strive to do her best to please God.

Mrs. Captain Laurie also spoke of the good example of Officership that had been set by her father and

Among the many messages of congratulation received was the following from Commissioner Lamb: "Thank God for Army associations! The bride and bridegroom may be assured of my deepest interest and of my prayers for their continued and multiplied well-being and well-doing. For their parents sake as well as for their own, we think of them with love and affection. They inherit the responsibilities of great traditions of sacrifice and service; may they have the grace to sustain them."

Others who sent loving greetings were: Commissioner and Mrs. Sowen, Winnipeg; Colonel Campbell, London, Ont.; Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Aubrey, St. John's, Nfld.; Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Chandler, Hamilton; Brigadier and Mrs. Marchant, Montreal; Major and Mrs. Barr, St. John, N.B.; and Major and Mrs. Arnold, New York.

PETERBORO BAND

Receives Three New Instruments—Band Secretary Speaks of the Good Work Done

On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 15th, Adjutant Burton, the new Corps Officer for Peterboro, presented the Band with three brand new instruments, all Army make. Bandman J. Smith, receiving a new cornet, has done over thirty years' service in this country and the Old Land; Bandman and Corps Treasurer W. Boorman, who had done twenty-two years' service and had in all this time never received a new instrument, received from the hands of the Adjutant a new euphonium. Last of all, Bandmaster W. Badley, who has been credited in The Army, received a new cornet.

Band Secretary E. Hensley spoke on the financial side of the Band, also of the hard work of the Bandmen during the summer engagements and the faithful work of Bandmaster Badley. In concluding he assured Adjutant Burton of the Band's co-operation in all undertakings.—S. J. R. Band Correspondent.

GUELPH BAND

Has a New Bandmaster—News of Some of the Boys Overseas

Brother Calvert (Peterboro) has taken charge of the Guelph Band, and considerable improvement has been made in this direction. A Male Quartette has been formed and promises to become a great blessing. Several of the older girls of the Corps have taken up instruments and will be out with the Band in the course of a couple of weeks.

Bandmaster Baldwin, who went overseas from Guelph Corps, with the 34th Battalion Band, has returned to the rank of private in order to get to France to do his bit. Bandman V. Fleischer, who went from Perth; Bandman Albert Leach of Guelph, and Brother Alec Pemberton have been wounded. Bandman John Chandler has been wounded for the third time, and is now in hospital. Brother Handcock, who has been sick, and Bandman Joe Baldwin, who was in hospital some time ago, improved sufficiently to be sent back to France. Our prayers go out for these comrades.—J. Ryder.

Ensign and Mrs. Snowden and some of the Members of the Wychwood Home League ready to pack Boxes for the Boys at the Front. (See Report.)

WAR CRY

Published for The Salvation Army by The War Cry
Editorial and Business Office, 10 Albert Street, Toronto

EDITORIAL NOTES

Conditions of Peace

PEACE of soul can only be enjoyed when those things which cause unrest are dealt with in thorough and satisfactory fashion. No one who has sinned, and all have, can be at peace until they have truly repented and sought the forgiveness of God.

Repentance may be induced by fear of consequences, but it implies very much more than that. The sinner ceases to do wrong because it is dangerous. If there is in the heart a desire to do wrong, the moment it is felt wrong can be done with impunity, it is likely that desire will be put into action.

Must Mean Change of Heart

REPENTANCE that will lead to forgiveness must be based upon a change of heart in the sinner; that is a change in the desires and motives that are behind action. In the case of the sinner against God, using the term in the spiritual sense, there must be, in place of the rebellious and disobedient spirit, the humble and contrite heart and fixed determination to live in accordance with the Divine will.

And the same principles apply in what are termed the ordinary affairs of life. It is one of the proofs, if proof is needed, of the wisdom, power, and love of God, that the principles which govern spiritual relationships likewise control temporal. There is no real separation between the two. Sin against man is sin against God. No one can please God and at the same time do evil to his fellow.

Restitution Included

NO man can have peace of soul while evil prevails in his heart or life; no nation can have that consciousness of satisfaction which is peace if, whether by action or inaction, it allows evil deeds to be done by its people; the world cannot have peace unless those who do wrong are either rendered powerless to put into effect their evil designs, or, better still, are brought to such a condition of heart and mind that true repentance ensues.

Christianity in Action

THE great effort which is now being made to extend The Army's Work among the troops will have the most earnest support of all our readers. Desire to do more for the welfare, comfort, and safeguarding of the men who are working in the military and naval forces has always existed, and now that opportunities for extension of the work are forthcoming, there will be no one who is confident, not only the warmest approval of all that is sought to do, but the most eager and zealous co-operation in the efforts that must be made to secure the funds without which nothing can be done.

Every command will be made upon all ranks, but whatever may be asked of Salvationists, whether it be hard work at home, or even more strenuous work overseas, surely none will be found wanting in that courage, devotion, and self-sacrifice which will carry them to the farthest limit of their ability to help. This is one of the greatest opportunities God has given The Salvation Army of demonstrating Christianity in action.

RED SHIELD DRIVE

A Great Dominion-Wide Campaign Coming for Extension of Salvation Army Military Work

PRESSING CALLS FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW INSTITUTIONS TO MEET NEEDS OF WAR
SPLENDID MEN OVERSEAS AND AT HOME

FURTHER PARTICULARS NEXT WEEK

FROM Field Marshall Haig downwards, officers and men of the British Army have written and spoken of the work of The Salvation Army with the troops as being of the highest possible value. There are comparatively few people in the Dominion who have not heard, either at first-hand from returned men, or by letter from their own relatives or friends serving overseas of the comfort and healing influence which centre round The Army's Huts and Hostels.

Opportunities are now presenting themselves for a wide extension of this work. The devotion of the pioneer Officers is bearing good fruit in this respect, and requests for more Officers and more Huts and Hostels, and for development of the work in other directions are reaching the Territorial Headquarters in increasing numbers and urgency.

The extensions which are now under consideration include more Comfort Huts overseas; the establishment of Homes in the Old Land for Convalescent Soldiers; the adding to the Hostels for Soldiers (on service and returned); in Canada still there shall be a chain of such institutions reaching from ocean to ocean; the providing of Comforts for men in hospital; the provision of Homes for Children of Soldiers who, under the provisions of the War, are orphaned, or otherwise in need of a home; an extension of Hospital Visitation; and, finally, making preparation for dealing with the situation which will arise when demobilization begins.

For this work in large numbers and in a big amount will be needed. A Dominion-wide Red Shield Drive for both is in preparation. What ever may be asked for, we are confident that the Salvationists and public of Canada will show their love for their splendid men overseas by giving them the comforts, blessings, and safeguards for which The Salvation Army's Military Work has shown its need.

Next week we hope to lay before our readers a definite idea of the requirements and the arrangements for the Drive. It will be observed that Canada West has already launched with preliminary plans of success Campaigns in Winnipeg and other cities.

WINNIPEG CAMPAIGN

Sixty Thousand Dollars to Be Raised for Army's War Work—How the Plans Are Progressing

Sir James Aikens and Prominent Citizens Endorse the Appeal

The organization arrangements for the Red Shield Campaign in Winnipeg are progressing favourably. It will take place from October 1st to 4th.

The recently-vacated offices of the Standard Bank, situated on the ground floor of the Confederation Life Building, Main Street, Winnipeg, have been secured as a Campaign Headquarters. Among the prominent men who have given their endorsement to the appeal are Sir James Aikens (Lieut.-Governor for Manitoba), Sir Augustus Nanton, and Mayor Davidson.

At a meeting of the General Committee, at which about thirty prominent citizens were present, Mr. G. Hunter was appointed Chairman of the Publicity Committee and Mr. J. O. Norrie head of the Organization Committee; and Brigadier Taylor (Divisional Commander for Manitoba), Chairman of the Church Committee. Representatives of the I.O.D.E. were present, conveyed greetings, and stated that they were in hearty sympathy with the appeal, and would be glad to render every assistance. The Women's Canadian Club of Winnipeg have extended an invitation for a representative of The Army to address them. Mrs. Commandant Björkstén has been appointed to do so on September 21st. The Hon. Newton W. Ruppel (President of the Privy Council and Vice-Chairman of the Dominion War Cabinet), in the course of an address given by him at the Canadian Club luncheon recently, paid a tribute to The Salvation Army Chaplains at the front, and enjoined his hearers to give their whole-hearted support to The Army's forthright appeal for funds. At the luncheon referred to, Colonel Turner, in a brief address, presented the particulars of The Army's needs, and his remarks were well received.

The Secretaries of the Great War Veterans' and Returned Soldiers' Associations have agreed to undertake the responsibility of the organizing of a parade to take place at the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 28th. It is also proposed that a meeting be held in the city at the afternoon of Sunday, Sept. 29th. This meeting will probably be held in the Industrial Bureau.

Gazette

MARRIAGES

Ensign Saxe Mapp, who came out of Lippington, on 30-3-11, Organized for the Life-Saving Guards, Territorial Headquarters, Toronto; to Captain Thomas B. Laurie, who came out of Toronto, L., on 15-4-15, of the Finance Department, Territorial Headquarters, Toronto, at the Temple Corps, on Sept. 16, 1918, by Commissioner Mapp.

Captain Henry Friscon, out of Nelson, B.C., 15-5-14, and last stationed at Souris, Bermuda, to Captain Grace Mont, out of Truro, 12-6-13, and last stationed at Liverpool, N.S., on August 15th, 1918, at Halifax, by Major Crichton.

WILLIAM J. RICHARDS, Commissioner.

PARAGRAPHTTES

PERSONAL AND NEWSY

INTERNATIONAL
The General has conferred the honour of the highest Salvation Army rank upon the Officers holding important responsibilities in the Organization. Colonel Theodore H. Finckling and Colonel Miles Off, of International Headquarters, are advanced to the rank of Commissioner, and Colonel Johannes W. De Groot (Japan), Acting-Commissioner. The advancement is to be made by the General. We hope shortly to print portraits and sketches of the careers of the Officers named.

The importance of the work already accomplished in Russia, and the wide range of possibilities for its extension has led The General to appoint Colonel Larsen as Chief Secretary in charge of that Territory. The Colonel has been Territorial Commander in Finland for nearly six years, during which time, in spite of unusual difficulty, the work of The Salvation Army has made good progress.

As successor to Colonel Larsen The General has promoted Lieut.-Colonel James Tait to the rank of Colonel, and appointed him Territorial Commander of Finland. The Colonel, who has been Chief Secretary in Norway for more than six years, has seen many years of service in Scandinavia.

Lieut.-Colonel Gundersen, Field Secretary in Sweden, has been selected for the important position of Chief Secretary in Norway in succession to Colonel Tait. (Continued on Page 15)

Newfoundland Congress
COMMISSIONER MAPP in Charge

Series of Inspiring Public Meetings—New Provincial Leaders Installed—Large Crowds Present

OUR old leaders have gone, followed by good wishes, love, and prayers, and our new ones, Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Adby, have come.

His Excellency the Governor of Newfoundland, Sir Alexander H. K. MacCormac, who presided at the Sunday afternoon meeting.

and simultaneously jumped into the saddle and into the affectionate, Salvationist heart of Newfoundland. With the new Provincial Commander came Commissioner Mapp, leader of the Congress, and Brigadier Morris (the Field Secretary).

Greeted at Depot

Though travel is so fraught with danger nowadays, the visiting staff met with no accidents, and arrived almost on schedule time. The visitors were greeted at the railway depot by a crowd of Officers, Soldiers, Life-Saving Guards, and friends. Immediately after the arrival, the Commissioner spoke of the joy it gave him to be back again in Newfoundland, of his gratitude to God for His protection in these perilous times, and for the splendid reception given to him upon his second visit to this island Dominion.

A splendid audience greeted the Commissioner and his staff as they came on the platform. The Congress started with "O Boundless Salvation," which was sung as only Newfoundlanders can sing. Representative Officers (Commandant Hiseock and Adjutant Salisbury) were asked to voice the welcome of the rank and file to the visiting Officers. They spoke of the great joy received through the Commissioner's former visit, and said: "If a Newfoundlanders falls in love, he never goes back on it. This is so with Commissioner Mapp. We are hungry for a least in this Congress." They spoke very tenderly of the service of Brigadier Morris, and assured Colonel and Mrs. Adby: "You will find no warmer hearts than in Newfoundland."

Following this welcome Brigadier Morris sang and spoke. Then the Commissioner arose and on behalf of The General and Commissioner Richards proceeded to place our new Leaders, Colonel and Mrs. Adby, "in the saddle." In doing so, he spoke of their combined service of sixty years, the arduous labours, the difficult fights, and the great sacrifices of the early days of The Army through which they had passed loyally and successfully.

Mrs. Adby said: "I would need the tongue of an angel to express my feelings for all you have done and said. I want to be a blessing to you all, a real sister, and I pray that God will use me in His own way." The Colonel sang in his matchless way, "I love Him better every day," and said, "Thank you beyond expression for your kind words and welcome. I am, looking with great expectations to our stay among you. I do not want to promise, I want my words to be few, but my service great. I believe God is in all these arrangements, and I come to you as a brother and Salvationist, your joys and sorrows will be ours." The Commissioner brought a special message from The General, in which he said, "Give to the comrades of Newfoundland my love and gratitude for all they have done for God and The Army, and tell them as soon as God opens the way I am coming to see them.

W. H. Halliday, Esq., the Colonial Secretary of Newfoundland, who assisted in the Presidency on Sunday afternoon.

Loving Greetings

Love and greetings were also received from the Chief of the Staff (Commissioner) and Mrs. Coland, Brigadier Morris, and Mrs. Morris. He went on to speak of The Salvation Army as a spiritual force, urging the Officers to realize, and to live up to, their present-day opportunities and privileges. Some very intimate and touching personal reminiscences concerning his home life and his experiences in France were also given by the Commissioner. He was of absorbing interest to the Officers present, and no doubt, very helpful in assisting them to see various happenings from the standpoint of The Army's Leaders.

TORONTO OFFICERS

Meet in Council Chamber to Hear COMMISSIONER LAMB

Officers en Route to India Speak—Lieut.-Colonel Rees Says—Farewell

An informal and homelike little gathering was held in the Council Chamber at Territorial Headquarters on Friday evening, Sept. 13th, chiefly to give the Officers of the city an opportunity of meeting Commissioner Lamb.

The occasion was made additionally interesting by the presence of Colonel and Mrs. Hise, who are on their way to India, and the farewell

Brigadier Edwin Lamb who is accompanying Commissioner Lamb address of Lieut.-Colonel Rees, who, with Mrs. Rees, is shortly proceeding to California.

Commissioner Richards presided and introduced the various speakers. After Adjutant Kendall and Mrs. Commissioner Mapp had led in prayer, Colonel Hise was called on to speak. He said that the last four years of stress and strain in England had made God more real to him, and he was more than ever convinced that the chief thing in life is to retain the Divine favour.

Brigadier Edwin, who is travelling with Commissioner Lamb in a secretarial capacity, next gave a brief talk, expressing his delight with things Canadian. A splendid tribute to Colonel and Mrs. Hise was paid by Commissioner Mapp, who referred to their former service in India and their spirit of self-sacrifice and devotion.

"They are typical of many noble spirits in The Salvation Army," he said, concluding his talk with a stirring charge to the Officers to maintain their concentration. "We are going to India with all our hearts," said Mrs. Colonel Hise. "I am reminded to-night by the presence of Mrs. Commissioner Mapp that we too first went to India thirty years ago as part of the famous 'Wedding Fifty.' And I am glad to say that we still retain the same old fighting spirit."

Lieut.-Colonel Rees then gave his farewell address. As was natural on such an occasion, he recalled many of the stirring episodes of his forty years' service as an Officer, and thanked God that he had seen a glorious opportunity of working for Him in The Army. "I go away with sweet memories of Canada," he said.

Commissioner Lamb's first word was concerning The General, whom he said, was in the best of health and sent his greetings to his Commandant. He went on to speak of The Salvation Army as a spiritual force, urging the Officers to realize, and to live up to, their present-day opportunities and privileges. Some very intimate and touching personal reminiscences concerning his home life and his experiences in France were also given by the Commissioner. He was of absorbing interest to the Officers present, and no doubt, very helpful in assisting them to see various happenings from the standpoint of The Army's Leaders.

Commissioner Mapp, Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Adby, Brigadier Morris, and the Officers assembled at St. John's for Newfoundland Congress

WESTERN TRAINING COLLEGE PRINCIPAL

Lends Sunday's Meetings at Windsor
Sept. 1, Assisted by Staff and Cadets

The 1918-19 Session of Winnipeg Cadets received their first "Baptism of Fire" in the war against sin since attaining the rank of Cadets, on Sunday, Sept. 1, at the Training Camp, Phillips (Principal) and Staff conducted a series of meetings at the Winnipeg I. Citadel. Each of the services was well attended, particularly the concluding one of the day, when the auditorium was practically filled.

Blessed with Talent

The Cadets took an active part: their brief addresses delivered and the vocal solos and duets rendered by several of them, demonstrated that these young women who had consecrated their lives to God's service in The Salvation Army are blessed with talent and ability, and possessed with an enthusiasm which reflects credit on the Territory and also on those who had anything to do with their entering the Training Garrison. With the wider vision of the Salvation Army and of their high calling, which they will undoubtedly receive while in training, they should eventually be able to take their stand among the best Officers on the Field.

The Training Principal's address was based upon three great Scriptural truths that every real Christian must be a partaker of Christ's nature and His sufferings, and as a result would eventually partake of His glory.

Lieutenant C. Ramsdale, of the Training Staff, sang an appropriate solo in the Holiness meeting.

The Army's teaching that "everybody has a part to play in the great Salvation War" was put into practice in the afternoon, for the Training Principal allotted some part or exercise of the meeting to as many as possible, as the time at his disposal would permit. Mrs. Brigadier Phillips gave a Bible address.

Good Open-air Meetings

Some excellent open-air were held and a fine march preceded the evening service. The Band and Singers and local comrades only supported the visitors and the Commanding Officer (Commandant Brisbane) extended a warm welcome to the Training Staff and Cadets on behalf of the Corps. The Commandant communicated the sad intelligence to the congregation that word was to hand that three more of the Citadel comrades had been severely wounded at the front: Brother Walter Sainton, Arthur Shergold, and Alfred Grey. He solicited the prayers of all for the anxious relatives. The realities of heaven and hell and that the sinner would ultimately gravitate to "his own place" was brought to the notice of the congregation very forcibly by Brigadier Phillips in his address: the subject being the betrayal of Christ by Judas. A number sought to make their peace with God during the prayer meeting which followed.

WANTED IN EVERY CORPS

Good and Capable Men and Women to Act as Young People's Local Officers.

Are You Doing Your Duty in Helping to Train the Young (11. People to Serve God)?

Campaigns in the West

Are Conducted by COMMISSIONER and MRS. SOWTON at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Macleod, and Coleman

ON the occasion of our Leaders' visit to Medicine Hat Corps, on Sunday, Sept. 1st, a blessed time was experienced. Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, accompanied by Brigadier Hay and assisted by Adjutant and Mrs. R. Clarke, led on in a soul-refreshing time in the morning Holiness Meetings. Mrs. Sowton dedicated the infant child of Young People's Sergeant-Major and Sister Ingdis. Mrs. Adjutant Clarke soloed. The Commissioner spoke from Ezekiel.

Mr. A. D. Ferguson
Who presided at Commissioner Sowton's Meeting at Macleod.

kiel, and his words brought the desire to enjoy a more definite experience.

In the afternoon a large and appreciative audience gathered to hear our Leaders' interesting lecture, "Some Lessons from the War." Mayor Brown presiding, warmly welcomed our Leaders, assuring them that the Medicine Hat people would like to have them visit their city more often if it were possible. Mrs. Sowton read the forty-sixth Psalm.

The Commissioner gave interesting illustrations of the experiences of some of our "boys," and the work The Salvation Army is doing overseas amongst them.

A vote of thanks to the Commissioner by voiced by Judge Greene, seconded by Alderman Marshall.

A good word was present at night. Mrs. Sowton's words brought fresh inspiration and blessing to every heart. As the Commissioner spoke, God's Presence was felt. One young woman surrendered. Many of the comrades testified to the blessing and encouragement received through the day.

LETHBRIDGE

Our Leaders visited Lethbridge on Monday, Sept. 2nd. The first event was a Soldiers' Tea, at which nearly one hundred comrades were present. Mrs. Sowton spoke to the young League members regarding the need of comfort for the boys at the front. The Commissioner also spoke about the needs of a progress.

RALLY DAY

The great need for the extension of the Young People's Work and the remarkable results attending past campaigns have led the Commissioner to set apart a special Sunday this year to be known as Rally Day. The day was held at the Training Camp, Lethbridge, on Sunday, Oct. 6th, for the Training Camp, Lethbridge, and the various Divisions and St. John Divisions.

NEWFOUNDLAND

(Continued from p. 1)

College Hall on Sunday night, and were the first to be sent to the front. The Commissioner, in his address, spoke of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army.

In the night meeting a good crowd attended to hear the lecture by the Commissioner, "Lessons from the Great War." We had an ideal chairman in the person of an old friend of the Commissioner, Dr. Rivers (the chief warden of the jail). Here Mr. Rivers spoke a few words of appreciation on behalf of the people to the Commissioner for his splendid address.

Our Leaders received a hearty welcome from Adjutant and Mrs. Hamilton, comrades, and friends of this city.

MACLEOD

On Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, a goodly number gathered in the Town Hall to hear the Commissioner. The chair was taken by Mr. A. D. Ferguson, who presided over the evening of the Army's Work abroad, and also in the town of Macleod.

Then followed a Scripture reading by the Commissioner, followed by the Commissioner's address, "Some Lessons from the Great War," every one just drinking in all that was said.

A vote of thanks was moved by the Rev. Mr. Dyre and seconded by the Rev. Mr. Kennedy, after which Brigadier Hay moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, and the Commissioner closed in prayer.

Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton and Brigadier Hay were kindly provided with a room, over night, by Mr. Steadman, J.P., and proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, who has also on former occasions counted it a great pleasure to show his sympathy with our work by entertaining our leaders. Our host thanks us for him for his kindness in this direction.

COLEMAN

It was a great delight to Captain Bailey and Lieutenant Joyce to receive word that the Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton were coming to Coleman to see them, and that the Commissioner was to give his now-famous lecture, "Some Lessons from the War." The Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, while in the town, were entertained by our friend, Mr. Ouemette, whose hospitality was greatly enjoyed by our Leaders.

Shortly after arriving, Mrs. Sowton, in company with Captain Bailey, paid a visit to a dear sister who had just received word that her husband had been wounded at the front.

The preliminaries of the indoor meeting were handled by Brigadier Hay, who presided over the evening. The Commissioner, in his address, spoke of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army.

After stating that he was a Roman Catholic and a returned soldier, he went on to say that before he went to France he had no use for the Salvation Army in any shape or form. "But," he added, "since I got to the front and seeing the work the Salvationists are doing there, my views have been changed, and I would raise my cap to them."

He concluded by saying that he was in bed when he heard the news, but felt compelled to get up and congratulate the Army. He then offered a donation to help out work here.

THE WAR CRY

(Continued from p. 1)

NEWS FROM ACROSS THE BORDER LINE

The United States Government has decided that a huge co-operative effort to raise the funds required by the various organizations doing War

The Commissioner, in his address, spoke of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army.

With intense interest the audience listened to the Commissioner's address, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army.

A Crowded Meeting

At night the College Hall was packed. Standing room was at a premium, and new friends were away. Our new Provincial Commander took hold of the meeting and the Commissioner led the great audience in a mighty Newfound song of "The Army."

The Commissioner gave us a vivid description of men in the trenches, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army, and of the need of the world for the Salvation Army.

Brigadier Edwy White

Who is going to France on The Army's War Work. He is a Divisional Commander in the United States, with Headquarters at Buffalo. His home town is Bismarck, N.D., and for some years he served in the Canadian Field. He recently visited Toronto in connection with the last-mentioned campaign.

Work shall be made, instead of each organization making a separate appeal. Seven recognized agencies will take part in the big drive for one hundred and seventy million dollars, which will commence on Nov. 11th. The money will be apportioned as follows:

Y.M.C.A. $100,000,000; Y.W.C.A. $150,000,000; War Camp Community Service, $150,000,000; Catholic War Council, $20,000,000; Jewish Welfare Board, $3,500,000; American Library Association, $3,500,000; The Salvation Army, $3,500,000.

The Commander, in conference with Commissioner Estlin and the Provincial Officers, will in the near future determine upon the details of The Army's participation in this great event.

The dedication of the Divisional Headquarters in Hartford will occur around the middle of October, and will be accompanied by some very important public meetings and a series of Council led by the Commander.

Many wounded soldiers have been coming across from France to the hospitals, and several important hospitals are located in New York City. The Commander has felt that the Salvation Army must come into touch with the boys, and he has, therefore, has appointed two Officers for hospital work.

Chicago has had the biggest Labour Day march in its history. The Army was represented by a magnificent float, 7 1/2 by 26 feet, with an open three feet. It was composed of the largest band which has ever been made—nine feet in diameter. There was a gigantic red pop, and by its side a coffee cup, and some of the biggest doughnuts that we have ever seen, with edible decorations. The whole thing was built solid on the float, above which waved the Stars and Stripes.

THE OFFICERS' COUNCILS

(Continued from p. 1)

THE OFFICERS' COUNCILS

In Connection with the Newfoundland Congress—Seasons of Great Spiritual Uplift and Blessing—Message Sent to The General

ST. JOHN'S is the Jerusalem of Newfoundland; to the Congresses held here from time to time, the Officers come from all over the Dominion. As in the past they came this year full of expectation, real soul-hunger, and mighty faith for a repetition of old-time blessing and power.

In the first Council the Commissioner spoke tenderly of those who could not come, and of those who were bereaved through the death of Captain Chappell and Mrs. Captain Rodway.

Early in the proceedings the Commissioner read to us a very special personal message from The General, to which the following reply was made:

Message to The General

"Newfoundland Staff and Field Officers assembled in Council under the leadership of Commissioner Mapp, assisted by Colonel and Mrs. Ady and Brigadier Morris, are grateful for your helpful and inspiring message. Among your words were Officers none love you and Mrs. Booth more. We pledge loving, loyal, and faithful service under the Flag. Come to see us soon; if you cannot, send Mrs. Booth. Congress progressing successfully."

The Field Secretary also read a message from Commissioner Richards, whom we had expected to see. This, too, was received with applause and pledges of service for the future.

Mrs. Colonel Ady was introduced by the Commissioner and spoke to us of a leader, motherly heart, of her desire to be a help, comfort, and blessing. We believe she will be.

Brigadier Morris was also presented to the comrades and spoke of their difficulties, with which he is so well acquainted. His words were evocatively appreciated.

On the second day of the Councils Colonel Ady spoke on religious zeal and enthusiasm as a necessary success in all spiritual work. His talk was greatly appreciated, and he helpful lessons. The last meeting of the Congress was especially for Converts, Recruits, Soldiers and ex-Soldiers, and Adherents, senior and Junior. The Commissioner gave the story of his conversion and how he became a Salvationist. The lessons from his experience were so helpful and so applicable to the circumstances and needs of those present, that by God's blessing they made a wonderful impression; and when the opportunity was given twenty-nine precious souls came to the Pentecost Form amid waves of blessing and rejoicing. There may have been many more, as they came so quickly, and in such numbers it was hard to keep track of them.

This Congress has been a great success; and the Holy Ghost has visited us. Commendation goes to Colonel and Mrs. Ady have immediately jumped into the hearts of Salvationists and the people. Brigadier Morris has renewed old acquaintance and love for the Dominion, and is staying with us for a few weeks. Expectations are running high for a mighty revival this winter as a result of the Congress of 1918.—J. Newton Parker, Major.

CHURCH SYNOD

(Continued from p. 1)

CHURCH SYNOD

Brotherly Acknowledgment of Greetings—Unity in Principles of the Christian Faith

To the Synod of the 'Church of England' in Canada, now in session at Toronto, Commissioner Richards addressed greetings on behalf of The Salvation Army and expressed special interest in the proceedings, as they affected the enormously important subject of the present and future welfare of our brave men now overseas.

From the honorary secretaries, Archdeacon Ingles (clerically) and Mr. Francis H. Gibbons, K.C. (lay), the following reply has been received:

"We are directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 13th inst., addressed to the Most Rev. Dr. Matheson, Primate of all Canada, and to inform you that His Grace the Primate read your letter to the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, and that your kind words and offers of co-operation were deeply appreciated by the Synod."

The present war, with its awful sacrifices of life and limb and the terrible devastation and suffering which it has caused, has drawn Christian men closer together and has made them realize that without sacrificing any principle that they hold dear, there is every reason why they should unite as followers of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ in supporting for the common good and glorious principles of the Christian faith about which we are all agreed."

DO NOT THROW YOUR RUBBER AWAY

Phenol or Rubber Rings Absolutely Harmless

As the result of an investigation ordered by the Attorney-General, Hon. J. B. Lucas, a statement has been issued declaring that there is no need to destroy canned fruit because of the odor of phenol on the rubber rings. Fruit, even if phenol can be detected, may be used with perfect safety, the officials report.

Phenol or carbolic acid (as it is stated) in the manufacture of some of the rings supplied to the glass trade. In some cases it appears that the phenol has remained in the rings, and in the process of preserving may have communicated its odor which is very penetrating, to the fruit.

The Chairman of the Canadian Research Council says: "Traces of carbolic acid were found all right, but the quantity was so small that a humming bird might have swallowed the whole amount in one of them and not have suffered even a headache."

Mr. Rogers, Government Analyst, reported that in the Bracebridge case, while the rings contained a small quantity of phenol, the fruit showed none. A gentleman had been of all varieties of the fruit complained of and which had an odor of phenol, brought to the attention of the Council. Of these he partook freely at successive meals without the slightest ill-effect, and further, on exposure to the air the phenol odor rapidly disappeared.

For this reason, notwithstanding an odor of the kind, which is very characteristic, should be exposed to the air. There is no need to destroy it. The Provincial Board of Health, however, has taken the view that it is most confidently to assure the public that preserved or canned fruit of any kind showing the odor of phenol may be used with perfect safety.

PRAYING LEAGUE

LESSONS FROM THE ACTS

(By Mrs. Blanche E. Johnston.)
The Ministry of Wisdom—in the portion of the Acts for Sept. 20th (Chapter 20), this is given as the chief thought. No doubt the writer specially refers to the four daughters of Philip the Evangelist. They prophesied—or preached. Thus early were women commissioned with a Divine command to "preach the Word."

This is the woman's new day! In wonderful ways she is entering into her God-given heritage of service. She has always borne the cross of suffering; every line of work she is engaged in, in the interest of democracy and patriotism, is of special importance and significance. Of vital importance and significance. But yet her holiest work is the ministry of (intercession); through it, all above, beneath, around it all, should be the accompaniment of earnest, devoted petition to our Heavenly Father. These are days of severe testing to the faith and confidence of some Christians. But in myriads of instances the awful perplexity, caused by this whirlwind of terror has sent in humble seeking and inquiry His children near to God.

I heard a little story which may help some tired reader, with mind questioning the reason why, for all the pain and stress and horror, to learn some lesson.
Dr. Robert Speer tells that on one occasion his little boy began to sing in the night. After a while the Doctor told the little lad to be quiet as he was disturbing others. For a while silence reigned in the darkness. Then a tremendous voice said, "Father, father!" "Yes, my son," "Father, is your face turned this way?"

"Yes, my son, my face is towards you." "All right, father," and in a little while the young chap was sound asleep, happy in the confidence that his father was near.

In the midnight darkness of war's fury, with its blood and suffering we may sometimes be tempted to feel that God has forgotten. But His face is this way. He is love. His Manifestation, the White Comrade, still holds the watch. "Not the mailed fist, but the Fictored Hand will triumph." Death is not the worst calamity, dishonour and national wreckage would be greater loss! The Soul, the Ideal, if lost, would be worse than the loss of earth-life!

Yes, it is right to pray for victory to our arms, and for the triumph of our Christian and democratic ideals.

OLD SONG EXCHANGE

Ensign Beer (Territorial Headquarters) wishes to get The Army words to the tune of "Carry me back to old Virginia." The first line of the chorus is as follows: "Carry me back to dear sweet Calgary."

I'VE FOUND SUCH TREASURE

Turn—All the world will be jealous of me
I have found such a Pearl.
There's no rubies or diamonds so fair;
There's no treasure on earth can compare.

CHORUS
I've found such a treasure more pure
Than gold.
No clearer than diamonds so fair;
No richer than pearls that have been laid
In the sea.
No treasure on earth can compare
To the treasure in Heaven I have found.

Oh, think of the home in that land
Where I grew up in my first city of gold.
We will play in the Heavenly Band.
Our souls will be glad to be there.
To that land over there:
All the world will be jealous of me
I have found such a Pearl.
There's no rubies or diamonds so fair;
There's no treasure on earth can compare.

Sent by Bandmaster Davidson, Spokane, Washington, U.S.A.

PROMOTED TO GLORY

ADJUTANT BRYAN ROBINSON—Killed in Action

A BRIEF cable from Adjutant (Chaplain-Captain) Penfold to the Chief Secretary conveyed the first intimation that Adjutant Bryan Robinson, who was on service with the Canadian troops in France, had made the supreme sacrifice. He was

"You will have heard all about the great battle of Hill 70. I was all through it, and was wonderfully preserved, coming out without a scratch. For my work in this battle I have been awarded the Military Cross. Many of my best comrades went home, but they died like heroes and Christians. I pray that God will comfort and sustain their loved ones."

And now, in 1915, he went on to France in February, 1915, and was the youngest member of the 157th Sincoo Battalion. Several of the men who knew him well told of the good times he had lived while among them. "He was there," and how he had always tried to live up to the principles of the Salvation Army.

He turned men of the 157th Battalion spoke of his life among them while in camp and overseas, and how he had been a light to many a wandering soul.

Mrs. Captain Lloyd read the Bible lesson on Sept. 2nd, the 157th Battalion sang with very much expression, "He died at his post." Many were the eyes that were rolled back during this meeting, and we know that hearts were touched. They would have been twenty years of this month. May God bless the bereaved ones.

This letter was found in the pocket of Comrade Scott after his death by the corporal. "Dear Mother and Dad—I have a few lines to tell you how all went with me and my comrades. We were very well acquainted with the Adjutant, as he got converted in one of our meetings in Bermuda, over seventeen years ago. As a young convert he had many difficulties to contend with, and of a kind which very few men who endeavour to love and serve God have to meet. Nevertheless he was resolute in standing firm as a follower of Jesus. Throughout the whole of the time it was my privilege to know the Adjutant, he always impressed me as being a man of sterling character, and one who had great ambitions for the extension of the Kingdom of God. Throughout the whole of his Salvation Army Officer service we watched him closely, and without doubt he did his work in that capacity with a keenness and determination which spelled success.

Those of us who remain will always have the very sweetest of memories of our departed comrade, and his life and death should serve as an inspiration to all to continue to live daily to love and serve our God.

His last letter to his children expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Private Percy Scott, Orillia (Killed in Action)

On Sunday Sept. 1st, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd conducted a memorial service for Bandmaster Percy Scott, who was killed in action in France. The members of the Orillia branch of the Great War Veterans' Association marched with us, with crossed flags, through the town. Crowds of people stood along the main street to see the march. The band played very appropriate music, and a grand ovation was given. A good crowd assembled at the Hall and there were very few seats to spare. His Worship Mayor Curran attended the service. Bandmaster Gross spoke on behalf of the Band, and paid a tribute to the late

Private Scott

Bandman, since Mrs. Robinson made was a member of the Junior League. "Mother" was dressed in white. Major Robinson (son of father) then spoke, pleading with the men and women to take up the vacant in the Band and Salvation Army through our dear comrade who called home.

This makes three Bandmen from this Corps who have paid the supreme sacrifice—Bandmaster Smith, C. Knight, and Percy Scott. Percy enlisted in December, 1914, went overseas in May 1915, and was killed in action on August 8th, 1916. He was killed while he was the Captain in the 157th Sincoo Battalion. Several of the men who knew him well told of the good times he had lived while among them. "He was there," and how he had always tried to live up to the principles of the Salvation Army.

He turned men of the 157th Battalion spoke of his life among them while in camp and overseas, and how he had been a light to many a wandering soul.

Mrs. Captain Lloyd read the Bible lesson on Sept. 2nd, the 157th Battalion sang with very much expression, "He died at his post." Many were the eyes that were rolled back during this meeting, and we know that hearts were touched. They would have been twenty years of this month. May God bless the bereaved ones.

This letter was found in the pocket of Comrade Scott after his death by the corporal. "Dear Mother and Dad—I have a few lines to tell you how all went with me and my comrades. We were very well acquainted with the Adjutant, as he got converted in one of our meetings in Bermuda, over seventeen years ago. As a young convert he had many difficulties to contend with, and of a kind which very few men who endeavour to love and serve God have to meet. Nevertheless he was resolute in standing firm as a follower of Jesus. Throughout the whole of the time it was my privilege to know the Adjutant, he always impressed me as being a man of sterling character, and one who had great ambitions for the extension of the Kingdom of God. Throughout the whole of his Salvation Army Officer service we watched him closely, and without doubt he did his work in that capacity with a keenness and determination which spelled success.

Those of us who remain will always have the very sweetest of memories of our departed comrade, and his life and death should serve as an inspiration to all to continue to live daily to love and serve our God.

His last letter to his children expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

The Vancouver No. 111 Corps has recently suffered the loss of a comrade, Walter G. Pike, who died in action in the Australian Expedition, Albionville, France on Aug. 1st. The memorial service was held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, by the Salvation Army Officers. Some of the members of the deceased corps' life of devotion to the Master, at home and in camp.

In his last letter to his children he expressed the desire that the three eldest would some day become Officers in the dear old Salvation Army, which he loved so much. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Private Pike, Vancouver B.C. (One of wounded)

WHAT'S DOING ROUND THE WORLD

HOPEFUL WORDS

THE British Premier spoke most hopeful and encouraging words recently, stating that the worst is now over as regards the war, and that victory for the Allies can be confidently looked forward to. He expressed himself as in favour of a league of nations, and said that in fact a league already had been begun. The British Empire, he said, was a league of free nations and the allied countries fighting the battle for international right were now a league of free nations.

JUSTICE FOR OPPRESSED

THREE deputations representing the Syrians, Armenians, and Zionists recently waited on the British Premier and presented addresses. They were glad to see him for his interest in their fellow-countrymen, and declaring that they looked forward to the final triumph of the allies, when emancipated Syria, Mesopotamia, and Arabia would be able to repay with a solid alliance and friendship their debt to their deliverers. The Premier, in his reply, voiced Britain's desire for liberty and justice for the oppressed.

FISHERIES CONFERENCE

DISPUTES in connection with fishing industry affecting the United States and Canada are being discussed at the meetings of the American-Canadian Fisheries Conference being held at Lake Champlain.

The principal matters under discussion are the requirements of Canadian fishing vessels passing through territorial waters of Alaska, the protection of the Pacific coast halibut industry, the rehabilitation of the sockeye salmon fisheries of the Fraser River, and the privilege accorded fishing vessels of each country in the ports of the other. Some of the questions have been pending since the time of the American revolution.

SOLDIERS' DEPENDANTS

WORD has been received by the Dominion Government that all wives, children, and other dependants of Canadian soldiers who are now living in Britain will be sent to Canada as soon as possible.

The Patriotic Fund, which has been asked to assist in caring for these returned Canadian women and children, has placed the matter in the hands of their Allowance Committee and has decided to co-operate in every way with the Dominion Government and the Soldiers' Aid Commission of Ontario.

EARLIER WHEAT

KEAGAN WHEELER, the noted Saskatchewan wheat-grower, has developed a variety of wheat that is claimed to mature ten days earlier than the standard Marquis wheat, and is, therefore, practically immune from rust and early frost on the prairies.

CANNED HERRING

BRITISH COLUMBIA canned herring is meeting with a growing demand. It is estimated that 2,500 cases will be packed this year, an increase of 150 per cent. over the year 1917.

WHITE ROSE DAY

A TAG DAY to raise funds for the consumptive children at the Queen Mary Hospital in Toronto was held recently, and the sum of $10,000 raised. It was known as White Rose Day, the tags sold being

SALMON FOR ARMIES

REQUIREMENTS of the Allied armies will take deserved preference in connection with the British Columbia salmon output, and civilian trade in Canada will have to be satisfied with about thirty per cent.

WAR GARDENS SHOW

A FINE exhibit of produce grown in the war gardens of Toronto was recently shown in the Toronto Armouries. This is the biggest show of its kind ever held in Canada, and it was opened by Hon. W. D. McPherson (the Provincial Secretary of Ontario).

So successful is this exhibition that it is assured as an annual event, and the produce shown this year gives the quickest to those who were inclined to be pessimistic over the value of the foodstuffs that could be produced in the backyards and vacant lots of the city. Nine per cent. of the lots on which the vegetables were grown were in cultivation three years ago. The amateur gardeners have done well, and instead of unsightly backyards and corner lots, cultivated gardens are now to be seen, and still more highly cultivated ones are to be expected.

A Group of White Rose Day Taggers. Captain Robbitt (the Officer commanding Chetler Corps, Toronto) and some of her team of workers.

little artificial roses. The total number of workers taking part was 1,500. One of the team captains was Captain Robbitt, the Commanding Officer of Chetler Corps. She had a force of twenty-five workers under her direction, including several Salvation Army Officers and Life-Saving Guards (some of whom may be seen in the photo on this page). They were glad to assist in raising funds for this worthy object.

ONTARIO APPLE CROP

THERE will be far more apples in Ontario this year than there were last, and the quality of the fruit is much better than it was a year ago. This was the statement made by Mr. J. F. Kyd of the Fruit Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, when asked for an opinion on the general apple situation in the Province. While the crop this year is larger than that of 1917, it is still far below that of years prior to 1916. Nor is Ontario likely to have a really large apple crop for some years to come. This is due to two causes: The gradual disappearance of smaller orchards owing to neglect and the wholesale loss by killing in the late severe winter, particularly in Eastern Ontario.

WANTS PARTS FOR TOYS

INDICATION of the fact that British manufacturers are looking to Canadian industries for supplies is borne out by a recent trade inquiry received from a toy manufacturing firm of Sheffield, England, asking for information from Canadian firms in a position to supply toy parts, especially dolls, wheels, balls, etc., with a view to post-war business.

PAINFUL QUESTIONS

Do you realize that Jesus Christ died to 'destroy' in your heart the works of the devil? Are you putting off getting right with God? Will you not see to it that reservation does not mar your consecration?

(See "Spiritual Shrapnel"—Page 2)

NO MEN NEED APPLY

A DAILY paper entirely run by women is the latest venture by a number of adventurous souls. Women have bought the oldest daily newspaper in Atlantic City, N.J., and plan to run it without a single male assistant. Even the printers "devil" will be a girl.

Women will write the editorials, gather the news, operate the typesetting machines, run the proof sheets, do the advertising, do the stereotyping, run the printing press, sell the paper, and receive the "kicks" of subscribers. The newspaper world will doubtless watch the experiment with lively interest.

MAKE FOOD JAM

THE Canada Food Board calls the attention of housewives to the importance of jam-making. If large quantities of jam be made this year, the demand upon Canada from overseas for butter can be met to a much greater extent than otherwise would be possible. When jam is used butter is not needed with bread. With economy in the use of sugar, the arrangements which have been made by the Canada Food Board are confidently expected to provide a sufficient supply of sugar for jam-making, as well as for preserving. Care in the use of sugar is still necessary. By using not more than is needed and housewives will find that their jam is a much more palatable and more digestible product than results from an excessive use of sugar. Sugar can be used in reasonable amounts for preserving, but persons who hoard sugar make themselves liable to a heavy fine, or even to imprisonment.

BRITISH FOOD SITUATION

THE British Food Controller says that notwithstanding the bountiful harvest, no relaxation of food restrictions and rationing is possible. It must be remembered supplies are needed to transport American troops to France.

It is hoped that the fruit shortage will be remedied by using vegetable marrow as fixed prices for jam, also blackberries collected by school children. The estimated profit of the national restaurant is seventy per cent. There is a proposal to economize winter fuel by extending service kitchens and restaurants.

